

Plastic Art

Foundation stage have been learning about alternative uses for plastics and how we can make them into art. Linked into the Armistice Day work the children were learning about we found a unique use for the bottoms of bottles and made them into poppies to display in remembrance of people who died. Everyone that saw the display commented on how stunning it looked.

good use of plastic bottles! 😊

A

